Group Confidentiality Contract

This document is a binding contract for maintaining confidentiality among members of this group. Each member of this group acknowledges the need to keep personal information shared in the group as private information.

Any information shared by a group member must be considered personal and private information, not to be repeated outside of the group.

To become a group member and maintain membership in the group, each person must agree to protect personal/private information. Information gathered about other members of the group must not be shared with anyone else. That information shall remain with the group members and not be transmitted or communicated to any other person.

If you agree to abide by these restrictions, please acknowledge your agreement by signing in the space below.
